

Séverine (pictured above)

In Skyfall, Bond follows the lead from Patrice (Ola Rapace) to China. After killing him off in Shanghai, Bond finds a casino chip in Patrice's case, from the Floating Dragon Casino in Macau. This is the payment for the murder he has committed in Shanghai just before Bond throws him out the window.

The case has supposedly been handed to Patrice by Severine at the Shanghai airport, but this scene was cut from the finished film. Bond goes to the casino in Macau to cash the chip, hoping to come across Severine's employer. (Here you can see the Floating Dragon's pokerchips in the bottom right hand corner.)
